WHY CHOOSE ODULAIR

World-class medical professionals from Los Angeles to New York to Puerto Rico to Africa choose Odulair because of its high-quality design and materials, extremely low operational and maintenance costs, and ultra-reliable technical support.

WHY GO MOBILE

Odulair is the leading US designer and manufacturer of modular and mobile medical facilities with solutions for over 40 medical specialties available on different platforms ranging from vans to buses to trucks to trailers to shipping containers to modular buildings.

Odulair Mobile Clinics improve health equity by providing the means for cost-effective healthcare services to communities that may not otherwise receive care at a fraction of the cost of running a traditional hospital or healthcare care facility.

100% SOLAR POWER

Once parked, this mobile health clinic can self-power its operations: from the AC to the lights, from the vaccine refrigerators to the outlets, everything within the mobile clinic is powered from the energy harnessed by the solar panels set on the roof of the unit, and then stored in the onboard battery packs.

100% FINANCIALLY SAVVY

Daily operations with an Odulair 100% solar mobile clinic are powered with renewable energy harnessed with solar panels and stored in lithium-ion battery packs. The operational costs for powering the Odulair 100% solar-powered mobile clinic will be 0 dollars.

That means huge, huge savings in your pocket. Did we say huge? Yes, and we mean it.
